

Daniel Kimple of Beloit Serves as Congressional Intern with Moran

BELOIT - Congressman Jerry Moran announced today that Daniel Kimple is serving as a congressional intern in his Washington, D.C., office. Kimple is a 2004 graduate of Beloit High School.

"I began my career in public service with an internship in Washington, D.C., that allowed me to see firsthand how our government works," Moran said. "I am pleased young Kansans like Daniel are able to have similar experiences."

Kimple will begin his senior year this fall at Kansas State University, where he studies biology and philosophy. At K-State, he is a member of Farm House Fraternity and volunteers as a CPR and first aid instructor for the American Red Cross. Kimple plans to attend the University of Kansas School of Medicine after graduating from K-State.

"I have enjoyed the opportunity to live and work in our nation's capital," said Kimple. "Representing Kansans' philosophy of hard work and values in Washington, as well as learning about issues important to residents of the First Congressional District has been a rewarding experience."

In the office, Kimple assists Congressman Moran with legislative and administrative duties on behalf of the people of Kansas.

Daniel is the son of Dr. Kris and Melinda Kimple of Beloit.
